UNM /Master in Public Policy
Application for Admission Previous Coursework

Please fill out this form and upload it to the application under "Writing Sample" as a second document.   See course descriptions for more details on course content*

Required Coursework: The following course is required for all applicants.

☐ 1. I have received a "B" or above in STATS 145: Introduction to Statistics*.

2.   I have received a "B" or above in a higher-level statistics class at UNM.

    Please provide course name & number: _____

3. I have received a "B" or above in an equivalent or higher-level course at another university.

_____   _____
Course Name & Number   Institution

_____   _____
Year & Semester/Quarter   Grade Received ("B" or above required)

_____
Provide URL for Catalog Course Description

Please provide the official course description from the institution as well as any other relevant information below:

* STATS 145: Introduction to Statistics
Techniques for the visual presentation of numerical data, descriptive statistics, introduction to probability and basic probability models used in statistics, introduction to sampling and statistical inference, illustrated by examples from a variety of fields.

Prerequisites: The following courses are not required for admissions, however they are prerequisites for one of the program's core courses.

☐ 1. I have taken ECON 300: Intermediate Microeconomics I at UNM. Please check.

Or

2. I have taken an equivalent course at another university.

_____   _____
Course Name & Number   Institution

_____   _____
Year & Semester/Quarter   Link to Course Catalog Description

Please provide the official course description from the institution as well as any other relevant information below:

 ECON 300: Intermediate Microeconomics I
Intermediate analysis of microeconomic theory and concepts. Topics include consumer behavior and demand, production and costs, price and output under both perfect competition and pure monopoly.